Art Unit: 2818

The amendment filed June 23, 2005 has been entered and made of record as paper no. 0605.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 25-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Usami (of record).

Usami discloses a semiconductor device comprising a plurality of first semiconductor layers (23-1 and 23-2) formed in a first region of a semiconductor substrate with an insulating layer (22) interposed between the substrate (20) and the plurality of first semiconductor layers, a second semiconductor layer, which is part of the substrate, formed in a second region and surrounding the first semiconductor layers. As shown in Exhibit A below the plurality of first semiconductor layers is symmetrical with respect to a certain point on the substrate that can be view from above the main surface of the semiconductor substrate.

In re claim 26, it is known that the first and second regions in Usami can be used for any type of circuits.

In re claim 27, the area of the second semiconductor layer in Usami is larger than the sum of the areas of the plurality of the first semiconductor layers.

In re claim 28, no patentable weight is given to a method of making (epitaxial growth) in claim drawn to a device. A "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See also In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90 (209 USPQ 554 does not deal with this issue); In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear.

In re claim 29, the "certain straight line" is clearly the line perpendicular to this paper surface that connect to the "certain point" shown in Exhibit A.

Applicant's arguments filed June 23, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Exhibit A clearly shows the claimed structure.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
